

BARRY AND FLORENCE
FRIEDBERG
JEWISH COMMUNITY CENTER

YOM HASHOAH 2017

JECOCO

Jewish Community Council of Oceanside

The Jewish Community Council of Oceanside
Invites You to Attend an Evening of Remembrance
Sunday, April 23, 2017 at 7:15 PM, 27th Nissan, 5777

Kindertransport Art Exhibit, on loan from the Holocaust Museum and Tolerance Center of Nassau County, will open at 6:30 PM.

Guest Speaker: Anita Weisbord

Anita is a Holocaust survivor and was a participant in Britain's Kindertransport program that saved some 10,000 European children from Nazi hands.

Put yourself in the following situation:

You have two small children, ages 2 and 5 and you are living in a war zone where children are targeted for extermination. An opportunity to save your children and send them to England on the Kindertransport presents itself, What should you do?

1. Send your children into the arms of strangers who will bring them to another country and have a chance at survival... but will they remain Jewish?
2. Keep your children with you, with the awareness that you might all perish together.

This was the dilemma faced by some of the Jews who lived through the Holocaust, and this is the issue we will tackle during our program.

Yom Hashoah 2017 is sponsored by
JECOCO, The Jewish Community Council of Oceanside

Hosted by the Friedberg JCC
15 Neil Court · Oceanside NY

For more information, please call Joan Goldfaden at 516-634-4168

This program is presented free of charge. Refreshments will follow the program.

